Bicycling in Delaware

This map series is just one step that the Delaware Department of Transportation (DelDOT) is taking to encourage all modes of transportation.

It features a network of State, regional, and connector routes to help cyclists get where they need to go. All roads in the state of Delaware, except limited access or express state highways (which includes I-95 and the Delaware Memorial Bridge), may be traveled by bicycle.

DelDOT has several road improvement projects and studies to make bicycling and walking safer and more pleasant. These are listed online at deldot.gov/information/projects/. Any new roadway project in Delaware needs to accomodate bicyclists and pedestrians.

Along with road improvements, initiatives going on in the state include:

- Delaware Bicycle Facility Master Plan
- Bicycle Safety Checks
- May Bike Month
- Delaware Bicycle Helmet Bank

Learn more about Delaware's active bicycling community of shops, clubs, and advocacy organizations by visiting DelDOT's bicycling webpage: bike.deldot.gov.

The Helmet Law

Children under the age of 18 must wear a helmet while bicycling or in a trailer or bike seat. The helmet law also led to the formation of a bicycle helmet bank to provide free helmets to children who cannot afford to buy them. Helmets are available through the public schools, or you can contact the DelDOT bicycle coordinator at 302-760-2509.

Get There Safely. Know Your Responsibilities.

Share the road. Don't assume motorists can see you.
Never ride against traffic.
3C's: Courtesy, Caution, Common sense.
Follow signs and signals.

Ride with traffic
