Delaware-we work hard to keep it beautiful and safe for you. Please place litter in proper receptacles and drive with care. Also, please do not throw cigarettes out your car window, use your car's ashtray instead. Delaware is tough on drunken drivers. If you are arrested for driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol, expect to have your Delaware license taken away on the spot and your driving privileges revoked for a minimum of 90 days within three weeks of your arrest. In addition, you will face court-administered penalties including mandatory fines and mandatory attendance at an educational or rehabilitation program.

Welcome to Delaware!

Explore Delaware's rich heritage from the softly rolling hills of the Brandywine Valley to the historic settlement of Lewes and the pristine beaches of Rehoboth and beyond. Though small in size, Delaware is big in historic and cultural treasures. You can travel back in time by visiting colonial Old New Castle or on a vintage aircraft housed at the Dover Air Force Base Museum. Drive through Dover's Amish country or step into a forgotten era on the trolley in Wilmington as you ride through Trolley Square.

In your journey through New Castle County, experience the charm of driving through one of Delaware's covered bridges or treasure the wonders of Delaware along its scenic and historic byways including Routes 52, 100, and 9. In Dover, the Capital City in the heart of Kent County, you will step deep into Delaware history as you walk through the doors of Legislative Hall or the nearby State Archives Museum. As you continue your journey south, you're headed toward Sussex County and Delaware's coveted beaches with seemingly endless miles of shoreline. Enjoy a leisurely bicycle ride at Cape Henlopen State Park or shop to your heart's content in downtown shopping districts or outlet stores. You can also travel westward into rural Sussex County and canoe, hike, bird watch, picnic, and camp at one of several state recreational areas. Wherever your travels take you in Delaware, it won't take you long to get there. It may be small in size, but it's rich with many treasures.

Cover: During World War II the Army built a series of observation towers along the Delaware coast. The towers shown here were part of Fort Miles, which was located in Cape Henlopen. The towers were established as a vital component in the U. S. military's coastal defense system as it defended important shipping lanes in the Delaware Bay. Later, the base was transformed into a secret listening post during the Cold War when the Army listened to Soviet submarines.
