

Appendix A:

Qualifications of Investigators

Qualifications of Investigators

Robert H. Eiswert, Archaeologist

M.A., American Studies, Pennsylvania State University, 2005

B.A., History and Anthropology, Bloomsburg University, Pennsylvania, 1995

Meets the Secretary of the Interior's Professional Qualifications Standards for Archaeology (36CFR§61)

Occupational Safety and Health Administration Hazardous Waste Operations and Emergency Response Worker Training Certification (29CFR§1910.120)

Mr. Eiswert has over ten years of professional experience in archaeological research in the Middle Atlantic region. For the last three years he has served as a Principal Investigator. Prior to that he worked as a field director on numerous projects ranging from large scale Phase I surveys to Phase III data recovery excavations. Mr. Eiswert has experience supervising excavations on a variety of sites in Pennsylvania and Delaware including stratified pre-contact sites, historic farmsteads, and industrial sites. In addition, Mr. Eiswert has experience in the supervision, management and coordination of transportation projects involving archaeology and cultural resources, serving as a PennDOT Culture Resource Professional.

Barbara J. Shaffer, Archaeology Group Coordinator

M.A., Historic Preservation, Goucher College, Maryland, 2009

M.A., Anthropology/Archaeology, Pennsylvania State University, 1996

B.A., Anthropology, Minor in Sociology, Pennsylvania State University, 1989

Meets the Secretary of the Interior's Professional Qualifications Standards for Archaeology and Architectural History (36CFR§61)

Occupational Safety and Health Administration Hazardous Waste Operations and Emergency Response Worker Training Certification (29CFR§1910.120)

Occupational Safety and Health Administration Confined Space Entrant, Attendant, and Supervisor Training Certification (29CFR§1910.146)

Ms. Shaffer has over seventeen years of professional experience in historic and archaeological research. She has two years of experience working in the Pennsylvania SHPO as a Historic Preservation Specialist/Review Archaeologist. For three years she served as one of the PennDOT's Cultural Resource Qualified Professionals. She has provided assistance with the management of compliance archaeological work for several PennDOT Districts and the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, including training PennDOT personnel on a variety of cultural resources issues, such as Section 106 and Section 4(f) coordination, implementation of Programmatic Agreements, and management of cultural resource field work. Ms. Shaffer has also assisted PennDOT in the preparation, execution, training, and implementation of two program-wide Programmatic Agreements. She has been the Principal Investigator for all levels of archaeological investigations on prehistoric and historic archaeological sites.

Charles A. Richmond, Architectural Historian

M.A., American Studies, Pennsylvania State University, 2000

B.A., History and Political Science, Thiel College, Pennsylvania, 1992

Meets the Secretary of the Interior's Professional Qualifications Standards for Architectural History (36CFR§61)

Mr. Richmond has over eight years of experience in historic preservation research, inventory, and evaluation of above ground historic resources for the National Register of Historic Places. He has gained experience in field survey work, historic context development, and report writing during his four years as a historic structures specialist with McCormick Taylor. Through his experience as an Intern with the PA Game Commission Land Management Bureau, he has a strong degree of knowledge regarding Section 106 and Section 4(f) processes. He has received NEPA and Section 4(f) training. Mr. Richmond also has several other years of unrelated work experience in which he has contributed to newsletters and report editing and production.

Brenda L. Weller, Archaeologist

M.A., Anthropology, Specialization in Zooarchaeology, State University of New York at Binghamton, in progress

B.A., Anthropology, Indiana University of Pennsylvania, 1994

Ms. Weller has over thirteen years of experience in Cultural Resource Management in the Middle Atlantic region. She has worked for CRM firms in New York and Pennsylvania, and has participated in prehistoric and historic site excavations in New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, & Delaware. Additionally she is an experienced zooarchaeologist, who has performed analyses on both prehistoric and historic faunal assemblages. As laboratory director she has analyzed numerous historic assemblages from rural, urban and industrial sites, supervised assemblage processing and curation and submitted several assemblages for long-term curation with the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission and Delaware State Museum.

W. Andrew Wyatt, Archaeologist

M.A., Anthropology, Temple University, Pennsylvania, 2007

B.A., Anthropology and Mediterranean Archaeology, State University of New York at Albany, 1988

Meets the Secretary of the Interior's Professional Qualifications Standards for Archaeology (36CFR§61)

Mr. Wyatt is an archaeologist in the Harrisburg office with 22 years of experience in the excavation and analysis of prehistoric archaeological sites. His areas of expertise include the archaeology of Native Americans in the Middle Atlantic and Northeastern United States, lithic and ceramic analysis, as well as designing excavation and analytical strategies for Native American archaeological sites. Mr. Wyatt worked in the Pennsylvania Historic Preservation Office as a Historic Preservation Specialist for seven years prior to joining the McCormick Taylor Cultural Resource Group. He has been the primary analyst of Native American archaeological sites and artifacts for McCormick Taylor since 2001.

Francine F. Arnold, Architectural Historian

B.A., General Arts and Science, Concentration in Fine Arts and Anthropology, the Pennsylvania State University, 1990

Meets the Secretary of the Interior's Professional Qualifications Standards for Architectural History (36CFR§61)

Miss Arnold has over 15 years of experience preparing determination of Eligibility documents, Determination of Effect reports, and Memoranda of Agreement for the Pennsylvania, Delaware, and New Jersey Departments of Transportation. In addition, she has experience providing technical assistance to PennDOT, including assistance in the preparation of PennDOT cultural resource policy, management of consultants, and review of technical documents.

Kathleen M. Diehl, Historic Research Assistant

Certificate, Historic Preservation, Bucks County Community College, Pennsylvania, 2005

Ms. Diehl has over seven years of experience in historic preservation research, inventory, and evaluation of above-ground historic properties for evaluation in the National Register of Historic Places.

Keith R. Doms, Archaeologist

B.A., Anthropology, University of Delaware, 1984

Mr. Doms has over twenty-seven years of professional experience in archaeological research in the Middle Atlantic region. He spent eighteen years managing the archaeology laboratories at the University of Delaware where he oversaw the processing and analysis of Native American and Historic artifacts of the Mid-Atlantic region. During this time Mr. Doms also participated in field work on a variety of Native American and Historic archaeological sites in the Mid-Atlantic region. He has received training in and has experience in conservation, and faunal identification. He has training and seventeen years of experience in oyster analysis.

Allison N. Rexroth, Archaeologist

M.A., Anthropology (Archaeology track), University of Denver, 2010

B.S., Anthropology (Archaeology track), Geology minor, Mercyhurst College, 2005

Meets the Secretary of the Interior's Professional Qualifications Standards for Archaeology (36CFR§61)

Occupational Safety and Health Administration Hazardous Waste Operations and Emergency Response Worker Training Certification (29CFR§1910.120)

Ms. Rexroth has 4 years of experience in the excavation of archaeological sites, as well as the conservation and curation of historic and prehistoric artifacts. Ms. Rexroth has expertise in the survey and excavation of Phase I, II, and III sites in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Colorado, and Texas. Due to her experience and training at the R. L. Andrews Center for Perishable Analysis at the Mercyhurst Archaeological Institute, she has focused her endeavors on the analysis, research, and conservation of prehistoric perishable materials. She has used this knowledge to conduct experimental archaeology trials in order to develop new conservation methods and protocols.

Justin R. Pitts, Archaeological Field Technician

B.A., Environmental Science, University of Toledo, 2006

Mr. Pitts has two years of experience as an archaeological field technician on all phases of archaeological investigations in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Delaware.