Unveiling of the Proposed Indian River Inlet Bridge Design

You are invited to join Secretary of Transportation Nathan Hayward III, Secretary of Natural Resources and Environmental Control John Hughes, and Secretary of State Harriet Smith Windsor at a public workshop where a model of the proposed design of Delaware's newest landmark – the new Indian River Inlet Bridge – will be unveiled to the public.

The workshop will feature:

- A model of the proposed Indian River Inlet Bridge design.
- Displays and information regarding access roads, landscape enhancements and improvements to the Delaware Seashore State Park.
- Bridge design team members who will describe the proposed design and answer your questions.
- A special presentation at 5:30 pm.

Public Played Important Role in Bridge Design

Over the past nine months, many Sussex County citizens attended three public workshops, and participated in two design charrettes, playing an instrumental role in the aesthetic design of this new bridge. As a result of this effort, the bridge design team has completed the preliminary design for the replacement bridge. Join us on August 20 for the unveiling of the new Indian River Inlet Bridge model!
